Brother of Lynn Youth, Who Was Found Near Kennebunk Alleges Foul Play.

Kennebunk, Me., April 7.—A brother of Eugene Southey of 79 Payette street, Lynn, who was killed here in some manner unknown the night of March 24 and the body found in a ditch on the Eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad a quarter of a mile east of the station, was here today investigating the allegation that Eugene was not killed by a train, but by a companion with whom he is alleged to have left Lynn the night before on a passenger or freight train.

It is claimed that Eugene had a diamond ring and money amounting to much more than was found on his body.

At the time the body was found a person placed in charge said that the young man showed no signs of being hit by a train or bridge, and has been satisfied since that there was foul play.

The brother said today the suspected person was known and in Lynn. He has engaged Edwin I. Littlefield, a former deputy sheriff, to obtain facts here.

A visit was made to Charles H. Lu-

SNOW DENIES EVERYTHING

Bribery Committee Brings Investigation to Close After Lengthy Examination of Snow

Concord, April 7.—The bribery probe at the state legislature was concluded yesterday after an investigation that has lasted nearly a month. Representative Clifford L. Snow of Warrenton, Manchester, was grilled for over an hour concerning the allegations that had been made against him at previous hearings. He proved a good witness in his own defense.

At the conclusion of the hearing the committee adjourned. A statement was given out that on account of the absence of Senator John W. Prentiss of Walpole, one of the committee men, no decision would be reached tonight as to what the committee will report to the legislature. If the Walpole senator is here tomorrow the committee will meet and take action.

The report from the committee to the two houses is not looked for before the latter part of the week. Counsel for the committee are urging that a report against Snow must be made while former Mayor Nathaniel E. Martin, lawyer for the one time Progressive chairman, says that the evidence discloses clearly that the probers have nothing on his client.

Snow was on the stand today as soon as the hearing got down to business. Sherman B. Burroughs of Manchester, spokesman for the legislative counsel said at the outset that there was no more evidence to present in relation to rumors of bribery in connection with the contest for United States senator. He thereupon rested the case of the prosecution. Mr. Snow, being sworn, proceeded to deny practically everything that had been said against him. In his long testimony he brought in the names of high politicians who had not previously figured in the investigation. Among other things he said that Franklin Worcester of Hills, republican nominee for Governor had given him $100 for expense money in working for his election by the legislature, and that unnamed republican leaders had promised him the job of liquor inspector under the license commission if Worcester should win. The job is now held by Frank Ordway of Milford.

Snow testified that he never had any such conversation with William D. Young of Manchester as the latter had stated. Mr. Young was one of the lieutenants of Gordon Woodbury of Bedford in the senatorial contest and he had sworn that Mr. Snow came to Mr. Woodbury's office in Manchester and offered his vote and the votes of two others for Woodbury for $200. Snow said that there was nothing in this story.

He also denied that he offered his votes and the votes of four others to Mr. Woodbury for $1000. He never was in Mr. Woodbury's private office in his life. What Representative John S. Wheeler, one of Snow's colleagues in the Manchester Ward

THE FAMILY ESCAPED IN NIGHT CLOTHES

Old Goodsoe Homestead Destroyed by Fire at North Kittery.

The old Goodsoe homestead on the Wilson road at North Kittery was completely destroyed by fire shortly after ten o'clock Monday evening. The house was occupied by James Lamark and family, consisting of his wife, a three year old child, and a babe of seventeen months. Mr. Lamark was away from home, being in York where he is working for Milton T. Cochrane. When Mrs. Lamark was awakened the house was all ablaze and she hastily seized her two children, and wrapping some bed clothes about them succeeded in getting out of the building. Neighbors soon arrived but the fire had gained such a headway they could do nothing to prevent the destruction of the building and contented themselves with trying to save a few of the effects in the building.

The house and practically all of the contents were destroyed and it is understood that the occupants had no insurance. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective chimney as Mrs. Lamark stated that when she retired she left a fire in the coal stove and everything was apparently all right.

NEW MOVE IN CUSTOMS CASE

Mrs. Shevlin's Sister and Her Husband are Arrested and Will Be Held as Witnesses

Boston, Mass., April 8.—Lena Bradley, younger sister of Mrs. Terrence L. Shevlin, and her husband, Nicholas Schram, were formally placed under arrest in the office of Collector of the Port Edwin U. Curtis in the customs house just before midnight last night. They were taken to the East Cambridge jail for the night and today will appear before United States Commissioner Hayes in the federal building, where the amount of bail will be fixed.

They were held as witnesses, according to Asst.-United States Dist.-Atty. Farland, and not as principals.

The Schrams were located in New York yesterday afternoon by agents of the Treasury Department. They were prevailed upon to accompany two of the Treasury agents to Boston, the party leaving New York on the 8 o'clock train and arrived at the South Station at 8:30 last night. They were immediately bundled into the automobile of Collector Curtis and whisked to the Customhouse on Tremont street and ushered to the office of the collector on the fourth floor.

For more than three hours the couple were subjected to the severest kind of grilling on the part of the Government officials. First the Bradley woman was interrogated and then Schram was questioned.

At first the couple were inclined to be reticent as to their knowledge of the alleged customs frauds, but continued questioning and cross-questioning was resorted to.

Hit by hit the long-sought-for witnesses told enough to satisfy Mr. Farland that he was justified in ordering their arrests.

Throughout the long grilling process, the Bradley woman, considered a valuable witness by the Government, maintained her self-composure. It was only when confronted with evidence already in the hands of the Federal prosecutor that she weakened. It is said.

It is said that she acknowledged that Shevlin and his wife had frequently visited her at her lodgings in the West and South Ends. She was questioned about her knowledge of the Shevlin's home life and their habits of living during the time that the witness was living at her mother's home in Somerville.

What else she told the Federal inquisitors only they know, but it was evidently enough to convince them that they wanted to question her still further.

The Federal Grand Jury, which will convene today, will, it is thought, take up the smuggling cases immediately.

It has not been determined how prominently Mrs. Schram and her husband, who is an iron worker, will figure in the case. Much time was devoted during the three hours questioning to ascertain how long he had known Lena Bradley, the circumstances under which they met, their family history and their method of living.

AHEARN WENT FOR A WALK AT DOVER

Since Then His Whereabouts
Have Been a Mystery and Suicide Is Believed.

Dover, April 7.—Fred E. Ahern of Cohasset, Mass., who came here yesterday with his brother and five young men in a touring car to attend the meeting of Dover Council, Knights of Columbus, has been missing since left the hall yesterday afternoon, and it is feared by his friends that he may have been the unknown young man who leaped from the West Boston Bridge into the Charles River last evening, or that he has wandered away and become lost.

The local police were informed of Ahern's disappearance early in the evening, and assisted by the Knights of Columbus they scoured Dover, Somersworth and Rochester, thoroughly, the search being prosecuted all night. Several supposed clues were run down during the night and today, but without a trace of the missing man being found.

It is said that Ahern complained of the heat and left Wamsamset hall, where the degree work was being performed, about 4 o'clock. There were 500 Knights in the hall.

In the street exit he accosted his brother, Austin A. Ahern, who was seated in the automobile. He said: "I am going out for a little walk and will be back again soon." That was the last seen of him.

It is thought he may have gone to the Boston & Maine station and boarded the 4:37 train for Boston, which is due in that city at 6:30.

Ahern was 27 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighed about 135 pounds. He wore a dark gray suit, black overcoat with silk lapels, blue derby hat and a lavender tie.

He was married about a year ago and has been engaged in the coal business at Cohasset. It is said to have been a young man of exemplary habits and not a user of intoxicants.

Three delegation testified in some weeks ago, the witness branded as absolutely false. Wheeler said that one day Snow showed him a roll of money in the train from the capital to Manchester and intimated that he was making it by "taking off" Wheeler said that there was about $300 in the roll that Snow showed him and that it was all a lie.

Witness swore that he took no money from any candidate for United States senator and none in connection with senatorial contest. He was offered no money in this contest by anybody.

Cross examined by Mr. Burroughs, the legislator said that he is a married man and a paper hanger employed by J. J. Abbott of Manchester. He worked steadily from the first of March until the week before Thanksgiving and earned by piece work as high as $27 a week, and an average of from $18 to $22. He never missed a day at work and took no time off except Saturday afternoons.

He admitted that he knew Mr. Young and knew that he was a son-in-law of Mr. Woodbury for senator. He never knew Mr. Woodbury was a regular candidate for the senate, but had the idea that he was a receptive candidate. He had thought he was receptive all winter. He never saw Mr. Young in Concord, and he never talked with Mr. Woodbury in this city excepting about four times when he met him in the lobby of the Eagle hotel.

He never talked with Mr. Woodbury in Manchester about the senatorship, and Woodbury's and Young's whole story to the effect that he had solicited a bribe was pure fiction. He told about going to Mr. Woodbury's front office in the Opera House block at Danvers street and Northfield Lane in Manchester, but said he went to see William Clement, who had desk room in that office.

Mr. Clement drafted a bill to reduce the price of gas in Manchester and got the witness to introduce the bill. When the Manchester legislative delegation was preparing to give a public hearing in the city hall on the gas bill he went to see Mr. Clement to ask him to appear in the hall. The last time he ever went to Woodbury's office was about the first of February on a Saturday night when the second Manchester delegation was hearing was to be the following Monday night. Mr. Clement was sick and told him that he had had two hemorrhages. He died two days later.

Another time before that he went and met Clement there and talked over matters before the Manchester delegation, including the gas bill and the bill in three positions elected by the people which had also been drafted

Two Views of Derrill Pratt, Whom St. Louis Critics Tout as Best Second Baseman in American League

St. Louis, April 8. Keep an eye on Derrill Pratt, the Brown's second baseman, says the local American League baseball critics. Several diamond experts have proclaimed him the best man in the position in a similar baseball organization today. Last year Pratt was one of the stars of the year. In the practice games this spring he has shown up in rapid form. The experts declare that no man has improved more than the Brown's youngster and that he will become a star in the American League.

Pratt covers as much ground as any man in the position today and is an expert tagger. He possesses a good throwing arm, and is a fairly good man with the willow. Manager George Stovall declares that his young infielder will make a great name for himself this year.

he was not at home they would leave word.

The business between the witness and Mr. Worcester was done in the parlor of the New Manchester Hotel in Manchester. A friend whose name he would not divulge had acted as intermediary in arranging the interview with the republican gubernatorial nominee.

In reply to Chairman Smith, Mr. Snow said that he knew that Stearns and Mr. Henry were Chalmers boomers and detectives. Stearns was for Chalmers for senator all along. The day after the Franklin trip these detectives came to him and wanted to borrow $10 from him.

Questioned again by Mr. Martin the witness said the $100 given him by Mr. Worcester was not to buy votes with, but merely to pay his personal expenses in traveling about and working in Worcester's interests among those he could influence. The hearing of evidence was then concluded and the committee was addressed by the lawyers in argument.

The committee ruled that it would report the finding of facts to the legislature. Counsel for Snow said this whole investigation had become a highly ridiculous proceeding and had developed into a muckraking performance to cover everybody possible with snail. The lie had been given between about everybody involved as witnesses and the committee could only go by judging whose story is the more reasonable, that of Snow or that of his opponents.

He said it is more reasonable to believe Snow's denials than it is to think that a same man will go to a candidate for senator who was in the scattering list and solicit $1000 for five votes. If Snow took bribe money he nor no other fool could be fool enough to spread it out on trains and a cigar stores. This whole investigation is inspired by soreheads, and defeated persons who want revenge on somebody. If the committee that Snow offered to sell himself to Senator Hollis and had then voted for Hollis, there would be something to report, but as it is, Mr. Martin thought about all the committee can report is that they have found no bribery proven in connection with the senatorship.

The former mayor declared that it is one man's word against another and that Woodbury's is no more entitled to be believed than Snow's. There is some sense in what Snow says but none at all in what the others say.

Mr. Burroughs said that he would like to think that the Senator had been elected without bribery on any hand, but unless the committee finds that this is the case, it should take some action to clear the good name of the legislature. The legality and validity of the election of Hollis should be definitely decided and these rumors settled down. Snow, he charged had been in the market all along and the combined words of such men as honest John Wheeler and Woodbury and others should be worth more than Snow's word. This closed the hearing.

PAROID ROOFINGREMOVES ALL TARIFF
ON FOOD AND CLOTHINGNew Bill Presented at Special Session of Congress--Sugar Duty Cut.

Washington, April 7.—Removal of all tariff from many articles of food and clothing; broad reductions in the rates of duty on all necessities of life; an increase of tariff on many luxuries; and a new income tax that would touch the pocket of every American citizen whose net income exceeds $4,000, are the striking features of the new Democratic tariff revision bill, presented today to the house.

Sugar would be free of duty in 1916, the bill proposing an immediate 25 per cent reduction and the removal of the remaining duty in 1916. Raw wool would be made free at once, with a correspondingly heavy reduction in the tariff on all woolen goods.

All these other articles are put on the free list, namely: Meats, flour, bread, boots and shoes, lumber, coal, harness, saddlery, iron ore, milk and cream, potatoes, salt, swine, corn, cornmeal, cotton bagging, agricultural implements, leather, wood pulp, Bibles, printing paper not worth more than 2 1/2 cents per pound, typewriters, sewing machines, type-setting machines, cash registers, steel rails, fence wire, cotton ties, nails, hoop and band iron, fresh sulphur, soda, tanning materials, acetic and sulphuric acids, borax, lumber products, including broom handles, clapboards, hubs for wheels, posts, laths, pickets, staves, shingles.

While wheat flour is put on the free list, a duty of ten per cent is imposed against countries which levy a duty on American flour. This will exclude flour from Canada and many other countries.

These principal items are taken from the free list and taxed. Rough and uncut diamonds and precious stones, furs, coal tar products, ten per cent; volatile oils, twenty per cent; spices, from one cent to two cents per pound.

Synopsis of Proposed Rates

Chairman Underwood of the Ways and Means Committee, in his statement accompanying the new tariff bill, gave the following comparative table, to show reductions in tariff duties made upon necessities. In each item, both the present tariff and the proposed tariff had been reduced to an ad valorem basis.

The new rates are estimated to reduce the customs revenue approximately $80,000,000 a year. This is expected to be made up by the income tax. Indorsed by President Wilson, the measure represents the efforts of the President and the House tariff makers to carry into effect Democratic pledges of downward revision and of concessions to the American consumer.

Protection to Farmer Cut.

Protection to the farmer would be cut throughout by more than 50 per cent in an effort to reduce the cost of food. Protection to the steel and implement manufacturer would in turn be cut by fully as wide a margin. Heaviest reductions fall upon foodstuffs, agricultural products, woolen and cotton clothing.

The free wool proposal, backed by President Wilson and accepted by the House Committee, is expected to provoke a severe fight within the Democratic ranks of both houses. It had not become clear today whether the Democratic opponents of free wool

THE TELEPHONE STRIKE
DEFERRED UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Boston, April 7.—There will be no strike of telephone operators in this city tomorrow nor before Wednesday morning. This was agreed upon this morning by representatives of the telephone girls and the State Board of arbitration at their conference this morning.

At 3 this afternoon conferences were begun between Philip L. Spaulding, president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, and representatives of the employees, in an effort to adjust the differences. The sessions will be continued until such time as it appears that both parties have reached an agreement on all points on which it is possible for them to arrive at an understanding. If, after the conference, there still remain questions on which the company and the committee of employees are at issue, the disputed points will be referred to arbitration to the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration.

This agreement was made by Hon. Samuel L. Powers, representing the Telephone Company, and G. M. Bugniet, the international vice president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' Union, acting for the employees, before the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration this morning. The attitude taken by Mr. Powers and Vice Pres. Bugniet gave the State Board the impression that the controversy between the Telephone Company and the operators will be adjusted without the further assistance of the board. The agreement, however, provides for a report to the board on Wednesday at 2 p. m. if there is any necessity for arbitration. The prospects are considered excellent for the avoidance of a strike of the operators.

Desire to Settle Dispute

Mr. Powers and Mr. Bugniet assured the State Board of their desire to settle the dispute between the company and the operators amicably. They informed the three commissioners that every effort would be made to reach an agreement respecting the grievances of the operators at the meeting this afternoon.

Pres. Spaulding will receive the committee of the operators and other employees of the Telephone Company at his office at 9 and discuss every question the employees wish to submit to him.

Vice Pres. Bugniet called at the office of the state board, in the state house this morning by invitation and had a long talk with Chairman Willard Howard and Commissioner Richard P. Barry and Charles C. Wood. During the conversation Mr. Bugniet outlined the grievances of the Telephone operators. He brought several operators and a representative of the linemen and the messengers, but the board did not have a talk with them, as no arrangement for a hearing had been made.

Report from State Board

Although the State Board sent an invitation to the Telephone company, Samuel L. Powers, representing the operators, called at the office as a matter of courtesy to the board. The commissioners discussed the situation with him and later asked Mr. Bugniet and Mr. Powers to meet them together. After a discussion in private for some 15 minutes, Chairman Howard of the State Board announced that Mr. Powers and Mr. Bugniet had agreed to arrange negotiations this afternoon looking to the settlement of the controversy.

The State Board issued this statement, giving the result of its interview with Mr. Powers and Mr. Bugniet.

Responding to the invitation of the board, this morning, representative of the parties to the telephone controversy appeared and the board conferred with them. As a result of the interview, the board advised that the parties should continue their efforts in an effort to adjust the differences which exist between them. This was emphasized by the parties and they are to meet this afternoon for further conferences between the committee of the employees and Mr. Spaulding, conferences to continue in an effort to adjust all matters of dispute between them. The settlement by arbitration of such matters as the parties may not be able to adjust by conference, is also to be considered by the board upon its suggestion of arbitration by 2 o'clock on Wednesday.

The decision to make a gradual reduction in the sugar tariff was reached by the President and the House after Louisiana cane-growers declined to accept a compromise that would have established a one-cent per pound tariff for three years, with free sugar in 1916.

Repugnant Tactics of Progressives.

State Auditor Frank A. Musgrove devotes considerable space in his paper, the Hanover Gazette, in defending the course the Progressives have taken in the present legislature. So far as we know, no one has any criticism to offer on the action of those who were nominated and elected as Progressives. It is the men who accepted a republican caucus nomination and were elected by republican votes who are deserving of criticism, and if those who are leaders in the Progressive movement were as pure in their motives and as honest in their endeavors as they claim to be they would not countenance such actions. But the fact that the Progressives are ready to profit by tactics which they would condemn in other parties shows that they are not sincere in their protestations that they have corralled all the virtue in the country and that they are greatly superior to the men with whom they formerly worked. Roosevelt once said, "Beware of a man who turns reformer if he has previously been a corporation lawyer." So we say, "Beware of a political leader who turns his back on his party and starts out as a reformer." But all honor to the man who stands square and honest every day in the year.—Journal-Transcript.

War on the I. W. W.

Recent strikes initiated and managed by the industrial workers of the world have encountered sharp opposition from the other labor organizations in the locality, indicating that the older and more conservative trade unionism is determined to destroy the new movement if possible. A Paterson (N. J.) newspaper, with close trade-union affiliations, during the strike in the silk mills has printed broadsides against the "anarchistic" tendencies of the I. W. W. and its leaders. Haywood, the fighting leader of the I. W. W. militants, now has the Socialistic party virtually against him as well as the American Federation of Labor, but his capacity for mischief is still formidable. He is no foreigner. He comes of old Yankee stock.—Springfield Republican.

To Discuss Navy Yard Consolidation.

The Navy League of the United States, a powerful organization in the interest of building up the navy, is to discuss the matter of consolidating navy yards at its annual meeting in Washington. Portsmouth should have nothing to fear from an honest discussion of this question, but it should be remembered that the Navy League is officered by certain navy influences and it may be that only one side of the issue will get to the surface. Portsmouth must be on guard to unfair attacks and the meeting should be open to all sides. That our city will have friends at the meeting is assured and it will not be all one-sided. New England must stand together for her interests in navy yards as well as other matters.

All Should Work for an Armory.

Our citizens should not leave a stone unturned to secure the passage of the Armory bill. Word comes from Concord that the bill will pass the House and it is assured a friendly reception in the Senate. The committee should be kept informed of the needs of this building in Portsmouth. There is no section of the state that an armory is more appropriate or needed than right here at the only sea port and the really military headquarters.

Clean Up Now for the Summer.

Whatever is to be done in the way of local improvements should be done before the summer season is at its height. It is up to our city officials to get busy. If it is possible to get through the summer without tearing up all the streets at one and the same time let's do it. The citizens generally can assist by improving their own grounds. Clean up the back yards and remove the old broken down fences. Come, let's all "slick up" for the summer.

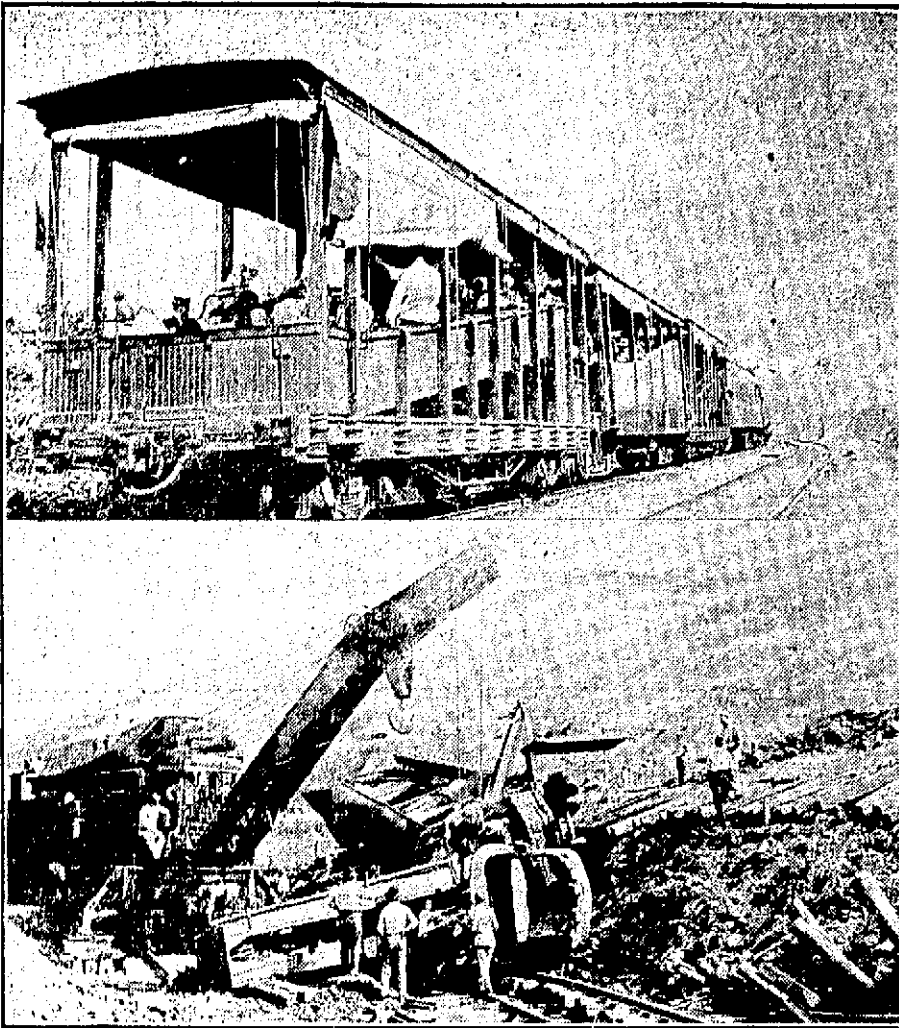

He Can Do It.

Governor Eugene Noble Foss, once prominent republican, now democratic leader of Massachusetts, is once more doing his greatest act—"the opium dodger." He is both for and against a high and low tariff. His latest is that he is "agin" the Wilson policy.

Hazing as a Crime.

Hazing in its milder forms constitutes an assault, but a North Carolina jury decides that when the death of the victim results it is manslaughter. At best, it is brutal. The boys who made Isaac Rand dance on a barrel at midnight in Chapel Hill, N. C., never dreamed a tragedy would result. The courts re-

Restless Mother Earth Tosses Over Dredge At Culebra Cut; Sightseeing Cars In Use.

In token of the prodigious power of the sliding earth one of Uncle Sam's great dredges was tossed over on its side and wrecked by a recent commotion of the land at Culebra cut. It is an old trick of Mother Earth to become unsteady at this point on the Panama canal, and the slides are continuously a menace. This is the greatest problem to be encountered along the waterway. There were 2,000,000 cubic yards of dirt displaced in the recent slide. To accommodate sightseers Uncle Sam has a number of special cars with seats facing the front on a slope upward to the rear of the car. These traverse the length of the canal. At bottom is a view of the overturned dredge with a Gerick busy picking it up. Above is a view of the sightseeing cars. Vincent Astor and Colonel Goethals were in the front car.

used to entertain the plea that the students were not guilty in that they had no idea of killing Rand. Whether killed in "fun" or not, Rand was dead, and those who caused his death were responsible. The sight of those three young college men sentenced as criminals ought to exert a sobering influence on hazers everywhere. The law can deal with this nuisance if the college authorities fail to do so.—Baltimore Sun.

The Hunger Strike.

The forcible feeding of the suffragettes who are on "hunger strikes" in British jails probably is barbarous in some respects; but what would the critics have? Would those that condemn the practice advocate permitting the vote-crazed women to starve themselves to death? Or should these women convicted of serious crimes and sentenced to jail be released immediately upon their refusal to partake of food? Let it be established that a "hunger strike" will win immediate release from prison and all prisoners will avail themselves of that easy means to escape the just punishment for their crimes.—Springfield Union.

Resurrection.

The people of the devastated section will rise superior to the shock. They are not of the sort that give in under the weight of every grief that comes crushing down upon them. They have the strength to endure, the power to resist. The heroism of the pioneer still lives—a heroism that is stronger than the most powerful adversity—that makes men and women equal to the crisis, no matter what it may be.—Haverhill Gazette.

ELIOT.

On Monday evening a club of young people was organized at the home of Mrs. Harry L. Staples, for the purpose of Bible study and research. It is to be known as the "Eliot" club. Its officers are: President, Nellie Payne; first vice president, Samuel Sydney; second vice president, Cassie Dixon;

Conclusion of the remarkable true story by Mr. John F. Moors—a story of such absorbing interest that two big editions of the March New England Magazine have been sold out.

Part II. with synopsis of Part I. appears in the April New England Magazine. Here are some of the spots illuminated by this story:

Who instigated the bitter attacks on the New Haven Road, and why?

Are these attacks justifiable or not?

What is the truth about them?

Does New England want persecution or fair play?

Mr. Moors has had the courage to take the hitherto unpopular side of this fight and he hits right from the shoulder with facts and figures—

Everybody interested in business stability should read this story, "Betraying New England." Many thousands have read the first part—the second part with synopsis of the first is to be found in

CARD FOR TONIGHT

The best wrestling card ever offered in this city is billed at Freeman's hall this evening, when there will be two feature bouts, both finish matches.

Bill Dryden, the local wrestling wonder will be matched against George McDonald of Worcester, a 185 pound man who has the greatest confidence that he will be able to throw Dryden. McDonald is a grappler who has had lots of experience and he is a rattling good man and Dryden will have to go some to get him.

The other match is between Cyclone Burns of Boston, the champion light heavy weight of the world and Lavalor of the Montreal A. C. who claims the heavy weight championship of Canada. He is a big fellow weighing 215 pounds and he will be twenty pounds over Burns so that he will make the Cyclone exert himself.

Both Burns and Dryden are undoubtedly the two best men at their weights in this country and both are looked to win, but they will know they have been in a wrestling match. There will be one preliminary match.

BOXING FANS
DISAPPOINTED

The boxing fans at Freeman's hall were greatly disappointed on Monday evening when the much advertised bout between Al Delmont an aspirant for the bantam weight championship, and Young Tommy Flanagan the New England holder of the title, was called off for some unannounced reason. Young Joe Grims went on in Flanagan's place and gave a good exhibition against his heavier partner, until the fourth round when he landed rather heavily on Delmont's jaw and he cut loose and knocked Grims out.

In the preliminaries Blacksmith Reckendorf got the decision over Soldier Rogers from Fort Constitution, the blacksmith being a much heavier man.

Young Thomas of Lowell also disposed of young Hubley of this city in four rounds.

diamond ring worth $25 and the actions of a young man who is alleged to have been a companion of Eugene Southey, form the foundation for the theory held by members of the Southey family that their boy was murdered, and not killed by a fall from a freight train upon which he was riding from this city to Portland.

Although the loss of the ring aroused suspicion when the property found in the pockets of the boy was turned over to his mother, Mrs. G. May Southey of 79 Fayette street, the assistance of the Lynn police department has never been sought, and the police officials know nothing about the case except that they, at the request of the Kennebunk police, notified the family of the boy of his death.

According to the claims of Mrs. Southey and her son, Roy Southey of Annapolis, Eugene, during the absence of his mother in New York city, had made the acquaintance of a young man about 18 years old and was accustomed to feed him daily at the Southey home.

Taking a third boy, whose name Mrs. Southey would not disclose today, into their confidence, the two decided to "jump" a freight for Portland, and search for work in that city. On the night of March 24, the third boy claims, according to Mrs. Southey, to have seen the other two board a Portland freight as it passed through the Lynn station about 8:30 o'clock.

At 11 the following morning the body of Southey was found in a ditch alongside the railroad tracks near the Kennebunk station. An arm and a leg were fractured and there was a scar upon the top of his head.

Nothing has since been heard from Southey's chum, although it has been reported to Mrs. Southey that the lad has returned to Lynn and that he is still here. He has not visited her home to explain how the accident occurred.

The coroner and undertaker at Kennebunk and the local undertaker who arranged for the funeral have told Mrs. Southey that her boy was not killed by being run over by a train.

THRILLING RESCUE ON GREAT BAY

Two Students Save Life of Herbert Bragdon When Gunning Float Overturns.

Caught in a snow squall on Great Bay and his gunning float overturned, Herbert Bragdon, heavily laden with gear, was nearly a half hour in the water, Wednesday afternoon, before he was rescued by two students of the University of New Hampshire, who, with Ralph Brackett, of the University of New Hampshire, who are home on their vacation, were on the shore of the bay, in a blind which they had erected with the hope of getting a shot at some ducks. They saw the squall coming and watched its effect on the gunning float and were horrified to see it capsize and the man thrown out. Without waiting for anything else they ran down the bay and one of the young men had the key to a camp where there was a boat. It required some time to get the boat out but they hustled for all they were worth and once in the water they made it travel in the direction of the overturned boat, to which was seen clinging the man.

The bay was very choppy and it was hard rowing against the wind but they never let up, all the time shouting words of encouragement to the gunner. As they neared the float they saw that his head would sink under the water every few seconds. One of the boys rushed to the bow of the boat and as it pulled alongside of the float he saw Bragdon release his hold on the float and sink, but one quick grab and he caught him by the hair and held him.

With the aid that was running it required some hard work and good seamanship to get the unconscious man into the boat without upsetting it. With Bragdon finally in the bottom of the boat, they started for shore and at the camp dragged the still unconscious body of Bragdon into the camp. They feared at first that they were too late, but built up a fire and gripping Bragdon began the work of bringing him to and after nearly an hour's time were rewarded by his showing signs of life and after a time got him so that he could take a hot drink. They remained in the camp with Bragdon until he was able to move about and then took him home to the farm of J. L. Schurman where he is employed.

Bragdon was as near death as he ever will be, until the final call came and he was very grateful to the young men. He said that when he went into the water he gave up hopes until he heard the boys shout and turning saw them running along the bay, but that was the last he remembered until he came too in the camp. Bragdon lost two good shot guns which sank when the float overturned.

As it happened the college students were the only ones who were along the shores of the bay, and it was pure good luck for Bragdon.

HEADACHY, BILIOUS, UPSET? "CASCARETS"

Bilious Headache Means Bowels are Clogged and Liver Stagnant

You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean, and ill tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh remedies that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver, and intestines can be quickly cured by morning with gentle laxative, Cascarets—they work while you sleep—a ten cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good and never gripe or sick.

THE ARMY AS A LIFE SAVER
A Point of View Worth Thinking About

The country will note with admiration the active part which the militia of several of the allied states have been taking in saving lives and property, and in maintaining order and the promptness with which the quartermaster's department of the army reached the scene of danger and took control of the situation in furnishing tents and food. Many lives have been saved in this way, and much property has been preserved. The conditions appeared to be so grave that

PLAN DANCE CLUBS AS LAW EVASION

New York, April 7.—Alarmed lest their latest device for abstracting coin from the dance made public be put under the ban of the police, proprietors of the restaurants where the "tea time trots" and tangos have been flourishing, today reconsidered a plan to form dancing clubs, with which the police could not interfere. The idea is patterned after the several supper clubs already formed for late dancing. The patrons of the afternoon tea trotting rooms would have to become bona fide members of the club, with a nominal fee for admission. Then they could dance their heads off without fear of the police.

SHERIFF QUARANTEENED BY SMALL POX

Rockland, Me., April 7.—Sheriff Adelbert J. Tolman of Knox County is in a peculiar situation on the eve of impeachment proceedings at Augusta. This morning officers of the local Board of Health visited the sheriff's residence, on Limerick street, and informed Mr. Tolman that he was under quarantine, as he had been exposed to a possible victim of smallpox.

This means that unless there is some legal interference with the board's right to quarantine Sheriff Tolman he cannot be present at the legislative investigation today.

Last week Deputy Sheriff Austin M. Titus of Union served a writ at a home in Appleton, where a patient is recovering from smallpox. Deputy Titus returned to Rockland, and resumed his duties at the courthouse as a Supreme Court official. Meantime the Appleton Board of Health notified Dr. A. G. Young, secretary of the State Board of Health, who in turn notified the Rockland board. The executive officer of the local board was absent from the city and Dr. Young's telegram was delivered to Chief Justice Savage, who in presiding over the present term of Knox County Court, Judge Savage decided that it might be prudent for Deputy Titus to return to his home and stay on his own premises and so directed.

Martin S. Britto, janitor of the Courthouse, became ill Saturday and is under quarantine at his home in this city. This combination of evils

A NEW SCHEME FOR RECIPROCITY

Washington, April 7.—An attempt to widen the foreign market for American goods, and to encourage reciprocity treaties with all foreign nations, is embodied in the new tariff bill introduced today, in a clause empowering the President to grant favors to any nation that gives mutual concessions to the United States. The reciprocity clause takes the place of the penalty clause of the present tariff law by which it was sought to secure special concessions to the United States. The new tariff bill proposes that the normal tariff rate shall be the maximum, and that special rates shall be granted to countries that will enter into reciprocity treaties with the United States. In the present law the normal rates are the minimum. The clause designed to open wider markets for American exports throughout the world, is as follows:

That for the purpose of readjusting the present duties on imports into the United States and at the same time to encourage the export trade of this country, the President of the United States is authorized and empowered to negotiate trade agreements with foreign nations wherein mutual concessions are made looking toward free trade relations and further reciprocal expansion of trade and commerce.

Such reciprocity agreements under the new law would have to be approved by Congress before becoming effective. In a statement accompanying the bill Chairman Underwood declared that under the Payne law the United States had attempted to "expand our commerce by force. We went to the nations of the world with the demand that they stand and deliver, or we would punish them," he said. "Many years ago this system of expanding trade and commerce was abandoned by enlightened nations. The true course that can be pursued to expand our foreign trade along rational lines is through mutual concessions that may prove beneficial to both of the contracting parties, free from coercion."

Another concession that would be made by the new bill is designed to encourage American shipping. A concession of five per cent would be made in all tariff rates on goods brought to this country in American-built ships owned wholly by American citizens. Restrictions upon Philippine imports practically are removed by the new bill and important changes in the method of enforcing customs laws are provided, following out the recommendations made after recent investigations of the custom service.

ONE LONE BACHELOR IN THE CABINET

Gatherers of statistics who have been compiling facts about the new Wilson cabinet announced with satisfaction the other day that its members are simple, home-loving and, by example, active anti-race suicide propagandists.

Of all the cabinet families only that of Secretary of War Garrison is with out children.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan is a lawyer, like her husband, but she has found time amid her professional duties to rear two children, Mrs. Richard Hargreaves, Jr., and William J. Bryan, Jr., whose wife will make her home in Washington with the family.

Three daughters call Mrs. Albert Sidney Burleson, wife of the postmaster-general "mother." One of the daughters, Mrs. Richard VanWick Negley, has a son about six weeks old. William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce, and Mrs. Redfield, have a married daughter and a son, Humphrey Fuller Redfield, who is a student at Amherst College.

Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, has a 16-year-old son, Franklin, Jr., and a daughter, Nancy, several years younger. Mrs. Lane is a college woman, but thoroughly domestic.

If ever an actual anti-race suicide organization is established among the families of the cabinet officers, Mrs. William B. Wilson, wife of the new secretary of labor, will be at its head by right of achievement. She has nine children.

Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, also has several children.

There are three children in the family of David Houston, secretary of agriculture.

Miss Nona McAdoo will preside over the Washington home of her father, William G. McAdoo, the new secretary of the treasury. She made her debut a short time ago. There are two other daughters, one married, and three sons.

The only bachelor in the cabinet which is why he is mentioned last, is Attorney-General McReynolds.

HOLDS ENVOY "RESPONSIBLE"

"Morally" to Ambassador Wilson in Due Madero Assassination, Alleged Charge of Mexican Congressman.

Washington, April 7.—Published reports that Luis Manuel Rojas, second vice president of the Mexican House of Deputies and Grand Master of the Grand Masonic Lodge of the Valley of Mexico, had fled with the state department, charges that Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson was "morally responsible" for the assassination of President Madero and Vice President Suarez, brought forth from Secretary Bryan yesterday the statement that no such charges had been received by him. It is not impossible that the State Department would refuse to entertain a communication of so grave a nature received through any other than the usual diplomatic channels.

Secretary Bryan declined to discuss the charges against Ambassador Wilson. Though it is not expected that Mr. Bryan will give any official recognition to Manuel Rojas or his charges, he probably will investigate carefully Mr. Wilson's conduct during the fighting in Mexico City and his relations to General Huerta and General Diaz in their overthrow of the late President Madero. The situation created by the Rojas charges is the more interesting because it comes just when a committee representing the American colony in Mexico City is in Washington to urge the retention of Mr. Wilson as ambassador. This committee has seen the President, Secretary Bryan and many senators. They endorse every act of the ambassador in the crisis in the Mexican capital, declaring he did what was best for the safety of foreign life and property.

The Americans from Mexico City are not particularly well pleased with their reception in Washington. Secretary Bryan declined to receive them as a delegation and consented to hear them only as individuals. Some are rather inclined to believe that their trip may have done the ambassador's interests and the interests of all Americans in Mexico an injury.

Those Whose Income Comes Solely from Leased Property Need Not Pay, Supreme Court Decides.

AGREEMENT IS ESSENTIAL TO PEACE OF EUROPE

London, April 7.—There would have been a European conflagration but for the agreement reached by the Powers regarding the frontiers of the future state of Albania, according to the opinion expressed by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Sir Edward was emphasizing the importance of the international character of the naval demonstration now being made on the Montenegrin coast and the importance of upholding the European agreement on the subject of Albania when he made the grave statement "That agreement is essential to the peace of Europe, and in my opinion it was only accomplished just in time to preserve the peace among the great Powers."

Washington, April 7.—Senator Smoot has a plan to reduce the cost of living which he hopes to see Congress adopt, which he says would cost the United States about $500,000,000 annually and save millions to housewives. The Senator expects to reintroduce his bill appropriating $10,000,000 annually to every state and territory, to be used through agricultural experiment stations in research and experiments in home economies, the re-

My back was so lame at times that I could hardly attend to my work, and I was also troubled with headaches and spells of dizziness. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box and began using them, following the directions closely.
